

"We are aware that there have been an increased number of scheduling conflicts in undergraduate courses for the Fall 2010 term. In order to improve scheduling performance, we welcome faculty and students to provide feedback on potential course conflicts that we can flag for future terms. These can apply to either the Fall or Winter semesters:

- Which courses taken by Geography students should not be offered with conflicting times?
- Are there course conflicts this term which you would like us to avoid for future semesters?

Note that we cannot avoid all course conflicts, nor will there be scheduling changes for this year. We appreciate your time and feedback.

Deadline for submission: October 31st, 2010"

If you wish to submit your feedback, please click here